[A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES]

WASHINGTON, March 18.—President

Wilson worked under an unusual strain today, though physically somewhat indisposed.

He received a number of calls on a variety of political errands; sat for more than two hours with his Cabinet, ate a hasty luncheon, shook hands with 550 visitors in the east room in the record time of twelve minutes, and devoted a part of the afternoon to con-the Chinese loan.

The statement came as a conse-

POLITICAL
BRYAN FAILS WITH SPEECH.

Unable to Break Deadlock in Illinois.

Brings Message From Wilson to Springfield.

Democrat Loses Three Votes in Next Ballot.

(BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES)

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) March 18.—[Special Dispatch]—Secretary of State Bryan said in the session of the Democratic United States Senators from Illinois today in a speech to members of the General Assembly. After his speech the joint session took the eleventh ballot in an endeavor to break the deadlock. The result showed no material change.

Col. James Hamilton Lewis, Democratic primary nominee, was given eighty-four votes for the long term. The Collum vacancy, Lawrence Y. Sherman, Republican primary choice, received seventy-five votes. Frank Funk, Progressive nominee, got twenty votes, and the other votes were scattered. For the short term, or Lorimer vacancy, Charles Boeschenstein (Democrat) led with fifty-eight votes; Sherman received twenty-four. Funk jumped to forty-five, Lewis fell to three and the other ballots were scattered. The Assembly adjourned until Wednesday at 10 o'clock a.m., when the twelfth ballot will be taken.

WANTER NEWSPAPER PUBLICITY.

In the course of his speech to the Legislature Mr. Bryan said: "I came with no secret message from the Executive. The President represents the ideal of publicity in politics, not the idea of secrecy. And I am glad that your Chief Executive, when he thought it advisable to speak on this subject, thought it wise to speak to the public and put his views in writing, so that all have nothing to say to you in confidence as dividends that I cannot say to you in such a way that not only you may hear, but that the newspapers may report."

He said he believed that the public and Progressive voters of Illinois would back up their Representatives in the Legislature if they assisted in sending two Democratic Senators.

Referring indirectly to the attempt to elect a Democrat for the two-year term he said the question of what can be done should be considered. In effect he said that the Republicans in the Legislature were not in a position by Sherman, their primary choice, and gave an indorsement to the plan advocated by Gov. Dunn of a Lewis-Sherman combination.

Ohio Grand Jury Brings Nine Charges Against Officers of Defunct Trust Company for Misappropriation of Funds Upon Which Accused May Receive Long Terms.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.) CINCINNATI, March 18.—George B. Cox, former president of the defunct Cincinnati Trust Company, two former officers of the company, and eight members of the board of directors, were named in the sealed in indictments returned by the Hamilton county grand jury yesterday. The envelopes containing the indictments were opened by Common Pleas Judge Carpenter.

One of the nine counts charges the misappropriation of $15,000 of the bank's money through alleged illegal loans to the Ford and Johnson Chair Company, now in the hands of receivers. Indictments in this count were returned against George B. Cox, Charles H. Davis, Norman G. Kessman, James F. Heady, James M. Hutton, E. N. Miller, N. S. Keith and F. R. Williams.

The New Queen of Greece.

Assassin Strikes Down.

though less tragic blow, in the death of her brother, King Frederick of Denmark. The Princess Victoria, who is the mother of King Alexander, is said to be prostrated, and King George and Queen Mary will go from Windsor tomorrow to give her what consolation they can.

Even the King of Greece's close relationship with the British royal family did not exist, the circumstances of his death would deba the court for a time from social functions. It is expected that the mourners will be announced for three months and that all official engagements except the most necessary ones will be canceled.

It is expected that the body of the murderer will be taken to Athens for burial. He went to Salonicco immediately after the occupation of that city and remained there in the capacity of commander-in-chief of the troops.

King George was a frequent visitor to London, his last visit having been on the occasion of King Edward's funeral, when he met Roosevelt and became a good friend. The ex-President, whom he impressed as one of the most democratic characters among the European sovereigns assembled here.

He remained a guest at Buckingham Palace for several days and with his brother, King Frederick of Denmark, walked about the streets entirely unattended and unrecognized. Several times they joined the crowds gathered in front of the palace to cheer the new English King, their identity wholly unsuspected by the working men with whom they rubbed elbows.

On a former visit to the city, the London Corporation entertained him at the Guildhall and presented him with an address of welcome. Of all the crowned heads of Europe, King George of Greece, his brother King Frederick, who was overtaken by a fatal illness while strolling alone in the streets of Hamburg, were the most unostentatious.

LIKED A GOOD DINNER.

At a meeting of Moslems and Turkish sympathizers here tonight the announcement of the assassination was greeted with cries of "shame," although there were some cheers.

The Earl of Selborne, presiding at a meeting of the Royal Colonial Institute, announced the death of the King, which recently captured the Turkish fortress of Janina with its garrison of 32,000 men, will succeed his father. His wife is Princess Olga, a sister of the German Emperor.

The Greek Legation had received up to a late hour tonight no official word of the death of the King. The Lord Mayor of London sent a message to the Greek Minister, saying:

"The citizens of London sympathize with the grief of our family and the Greek nation in their bereavement and express their horror at the crime."

The Lord Mayor also telegraphed condolences to the King's widow, M. Queen Alexandra, while the Mayor of Windsor called at the castle to offer condolences.

HORRIFIED AT KING'S DEATH.

King of Italy and Pope Overwhelmed With Sorrow as News of George's Untimely End.

(BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.) ROME, March 18.—News of the assassination of King George of Greece has horrified the people of Rome, who remember the affability and kindness of the Greek King during his frequent visits here.

King Victor Emmanuel and the Italian Foreign Minister, Marquis di San Giuliano, have telephoned their deepest condolences to Athens.

King George was greatly grieved at that time said that Greece after the was probably would have a frontier with Salonicco and Moudros and he was inclined to make Salonicco a forte port.

Since the occupation of Salonicco by the Greeks, there has been some friction between them and their Bulgarian allies, but it was thought this would be eventually overcome during the negotiations for the partition of Turkish territory.

EXPECTS MUCH OF NEW KING.

FORMER MINISTER TO GREECE PRAISES CONSTANTINE.

Hellenic Policy in Balkans Is to Be Continued as Laid Down by Dead Monarch Who in a Few Months Would Have Celebrated His Jubilee on the Throne.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) NEW YORK, March 18.—The death of King George of Greece will make no change in the Balkan situation, is the opinion of George H. Moses, former American Minister to Greece. Mr. Moses said that Constantine, King George's son and successor, was entirely in accord with the policies of his father and is of strong personality.

"The thought which arises most emphatically on the news of King George's assassination," he said, "is the tragedy of such an end of his long useful career at a time when he was within a few months of celebrating the jubilee of his fiftieth year on the Hellenic throne, and when we are on the point of concluding a victorious war by giving to Greece a doubled territory and a doubled population."

SENIOR MONARCH.

"To this day of success, King George had contributed much. With great tact he had led his people through days of difficulty and was no small factor in the work of re-organization which had brought the Greek government, its army and its navy, to a point where they could wage a victorious war against their traditional foe. In the negotiations leading to the Balkan federation, King George was a constant and helpful contributor, and, but for the tragic fate which has now come to him, doubtless, as the senior Balkan monarch and no less by his personal merit, would have become the head of a permanent Balkan alliance.

"His death will make no change in the plans of the Greeks. Constantine is a highly trained soldier in whom military and the diplomatic traits are well blended."

TO GUARANTEE THE DOLLAR.

Democratic Administration Is Said to Be Bent on Making Banks Shoulders the Burden.

(BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 18.—[Special Dispatch.] An article signed B. C. Myers, printed here today, says: "The Democratic administration is determined to force through legislation calling for the guarantee of every dollar of the $4,000,000,000 deposits in the country's 7500 national banks.

"This announcement will today fall as a bombshell on the banking world. I make it on authority which can be accepted as absolutely trustworthy.

"No banking legislation half so important has ever before been attempted by the Federal government—at least, not since the days of greenbacks."

"The government will not itself guarantee deposits, but will compel the national banks to shoulder the burden."

"Democratic leaders, I am told, have sounded the various factions at Washington and have found that the proposal will be supported by the extreme radicals, as well as by the 'regulars' in Congress. The intention is to carry through the measure at all costs."

SUCCESSION.

RULED GREECE FIFTY YEARS.

KING HAD DONE MUCH FOR HIS COUNTRY.

Was Brother of Queen Mother Alexandra of England and Married Niece of Late Czar Alexander of Russia—Popular in Athens and Had Raised Efficiency of Army.

(BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.)

ATHENS, March 18.—King George was in his thirty-eighth year and had fifty years. He was a brother of Queen Mother Alexandra of England and a son of the late King of Denmark. He was chosen King of the Hellenes in 1863 in succession to Otto I.

A previous attempt to assassinate him was made in 1898, but was frustrated. King George was married in October, 1901, to Princess Olga, eldest daughter of the Grand Duke Constantine of Russia, a brother of the late Emperor Alexander II.

Crown Prince Constantine, who has been in active command of the Greek troops throughout the hostilities in the eastern part of the European Turkey, was at the head of the army which recently captured the Turkish fortress of Janina with its garrison of 32,000 men, will succeed his father. His wife is Princess Olga, a sister of the German Emperor.

FAVORS OPEN DOOR.

"The government of the United States is not only willing but more desirous of aiding the Chinese people in every way that is consistent with their untrammeled development and its own immemorial welfare. The administration will do its best to make China a companion of the people under free government, the most significant, if not the most momentous, event of our time. With the movement and the American people, and the American sympathy, they certainly will participate, and participate very seriously, in opening up the Chinese to the world. The Chinese people stand to the world as untouched and perhaps unloved sources of China."

NO ACTION TAKEN.

Woolverton admitted that he had no power to recommend the collector to refer clearance to the Chinese government which might nullify the action of the Federal government, but could recommend to the Department of Commerce and Labor that a fine be imposed against the Chinese.

Woolverton said that the letter was the result of the vessel.

commercial enterprises. The present administration has been asked to do this, and when it would be requested that they would participate in the loans. The representatives of the bankers through which the administration was approached decline to say that they would continue to do this, but they would continue to propose agreements only if it were requested to do so by the government. The administration has declined to do this, which request because it did not approve the conditions of responsibility on its own part which it was plain told would be involved in the request.

REJECTS RESPONSIBILITY.

The conditions of the loan seem to us to touch very nearly the administrative independence of China itself; and this administration does not feel that it is in any way responsible to be a party to those conditions. The responsibility on its part which would be implied in requesting the bankers to undertake the loan might conceivably be the largest in some other contingency of foreign interference in the financial and even the political affairs of that great oriental state, just now awakening to a consciousness of its power and of its obligations to its people. The conditions include, not only the payment of particular taxes, some of them approximated and burdensome, to secure the loan, but also the administration of those taxes by foreign officials. The responsibility on the part of our government in the encouragement of a loan thus secured and administered is plain enough, and is no less than the principles upon which the government of our people rests.

DESIRE TO AID CHINA.

The government of the United States is not only willing but earnestly desirous of aiding the great Chinese people in every way possible consistent with their untrammeled development and its own immemorial principles. The awakening of the people of China to a consciousness of their possibilities under freedom is the most significant, if not the most momentous, event of our generation. With this movement and aspiration the American people are in profound sympathy. They are willing to participate, and to participate very generously, in opposing to the Chinese and to the use of the world the almost untouched and perhaps unrivaled resources of China.

FAVORABLE OPEN DOOR.

The government of the United States is earnestly desirous of promoting the most extended and intimate trade relationships between this country and the Chinese. It will do all in its power to support the legislative measures necessary to give American merchants, manufacturers, contractors and engineers, the opportunity of doing business with the Chinese. It will do all in its power to encourage the Chinese to do the same. The Chinese have been the most important factor in the development of China. Our interests are those of the open door—a door of friendship and mutual advantage. This is the only door we can open to China.

CHINA DESIRES RECOGNITION.

Everyone known today that Tsu Shih Kai, provisional President of China, has been in communication with President Wilson, will be surprised to learn that two communiques have been issued by President Wilson. Secretary Bryan and Chang Yiu Tang, the Chinese Minister, at which recent session of the republic, and the big loss were discussed.

BANKERS INTERESTED.

The American bankers who were to have participated in the $100,000 loan were J. P. Morgan, Co., Kuhn, Loeb & Co., the First National Bank and the National City Bank of New York.

A statement issued by them September 24, 1912, declared the loan had been made impossible by China's refusal to give certain safeguards. The bankers were not willing, the statement said, "to undertake a loan which would so largely affect China's debt without insisting upon the inauguration of reforms which would enable China to sustain its debts."

There was some intimation today that American banking houses other than those concerned in the first negotiations were prepared to take part in the loan should it be revived.

CAN'T GET MONEY FROM FRIEDMANN

Assistant Who Came From Berlin Quits in Huf.

Says Scientist Has Given Him Only Promises.

Thinks Physician Has Taken Wrong Course Here.

TRY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 18.—(Special Dispatch.) Dr. Friedrich Friedmann, troubles in convincing physicians of this country of the value of his method for the treatment of tuberculosis were increased today by the defection of Dr. Harry Benjamin, the assistant brought by him from Berlin. Dr. Benjamin parted with Dr. Friedmann yesterday after a noisy quarrel, when Friedmann thought he had justed over night. But Dr. Benjamin made his grievance public. He has done with money differences.

BENJAMIN TALKS.

"It is like this," said Dr. Benjamin at the Hotel Ansonia, where he called as a result of an effort of Secretary Taft and the House to patch up the quarrel. "I had a written contract with Dr. Friedmann. He said to me, 'I am going to America, come with me.' I make a lot of money, he says, 'I shall see that you get a great share.' I came. He promised that I should go to hotels as good as those where he lived and that all my expenses should be paid."

I HAVE NOT BEEN PAID.

"I am not a rich man, I am poor. He has given me not one cent. I must have money. Except for the kindness of friends on whom I have no claim, I would have been hungry many times. Yet, I made a final demand upon him, and he told me he had no money. He could give me none. He knew better. He has more nerve. I stock of the Northern Pacific Railway. I would have been satisfied if Dr. Friedmann had gone about his work differently, but I believe he has taken the wrong action almost invariably, single-handed. He has friends who might have been treated by proper arrangement have been turned away and he has treated comparatively few. I refused shade with him when I resigned."

Dr. Benjamin, who is believed to know the inner secret of the Friedmann preparation of the turtle balsam, at first refused to confer with the German physician's brother, Dr. A. H. Friedmann, but was finally persuaded by Dr. Benjamin to succeed him as assistant. (To go into a consultation in Dr. Sturm's room.

THE OFFER IS WITHDRAWN.

Dr. Joseph Cipes of Albuquerque, N. M., announced today that he had withdrawn the offer of $500,000 for a visit by the physician to New Mexico.

THE WEATHER BACK EAST.

Snow is Falling in Montana, and Chicago Looks for Rain and a Cold Spell. Probably Thursday.

TRY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 18.—(Special Dispatch.) Snow is still falling tonight in Montana, North Dakota, Wyoming and Utah, with no promise of let-up for several hours. In other parts of the West rain fell during the past twenty-four hours, but the greatest rainfall was in the South, particularly Florida. It is fair in the South and the temperature is moderately high.

"I can see no big change in the weather conditions over the country during the remaining twenty-four hours," said Dr. Frankenstein, official weather forecaster in Chicago, tonight. "The change is to some rate probably Thursday, and the weather will drop. The East promises to continue fair. Other temperatures:

Chicago Dressmakers Introduce New Design Which Accents Women's Curves.

CLOTHES LINE TO THE TIMES, March 18.—(Exclusive.) Women's Curves are accentuated in women's dress this spring, according to information imparted last night by a member of the Chicago Dressmakers' Club.

The creation is of "futurist" design.

Hints from both sides during the day that the crowd should be held.

The women declared the result.

"I think it is more the eyes of the defendant which are continually the gift than the rest of us," the witness.

on record as predicting that in the future foodstuffs for Los Angeles and Southern California, to the distant reaches of the future—no matter what our future increases in population may be, we may look upon the San Joaquin Valley as our future source of our dairy supplies, but herds of seventy-five and 100 dairy animals are by no means uncommon in Imperial Valley, and real competition with the San Joaquin for our dairy business will be shortly found.

"In general, the development of the valley is wonderful, especially the development of the oil fields. People who know have an abiding faith in its future, attested last week by two $100,000 deals, one for 650 acres and the other for 880 acres, both south of the line."

PERSONALS.

Mrs. Robert Pitcairn, widow of the late railroad magnate, who has been spending the winter in Pasadena, is to leave the 31st inst. in her private car, and return to her summer home in Chicago.

Charles E. Gleeb of Topoka, a stockholder and director of the Santa Fe and other railroads, and president of the Missouri and Kansas Telephone Company, and the Kansas City Traction Company, is expected Saturday from Gila City, Arizona, where he and B. P. Cheney of Boston, also a stockholder and director of the Santa Fe and Chicago, Ill., Traction, former manager of the Guggenheim interests in Arizona and Mexico, have been looking over the property of the London-Arizona Copper Company, in which he has an interest.

It is expected that Cheney and Flinney will accompany Gleeb here.

J. Tuckfield, a mining engineer of Las Vegas, Nev., arrived at the Holenbeck yesterday to look after personal property interests. Another guest at this hotel is J. S. Cox, attorney of Birmingham, Ala., here on a pleasure tour.

H. L. Heyd, president of the First National Bank of Garrettsville, O., accompanied by his wife, is representing the Land Committee. George Hammond and wife are other guests at the Westminster. Hammond is a Phoenix attorney.

E. R. Tufts is registered at the Angelus from New York. He has just come up from Mexico, and with a number of his friends, has a number of 2,000,000 acres of land in Sonora. "Conditions in that part of Mexico are more unsettled than they have been in two years and there are fears of an Indian uprising," he said.

John H. Kuhl and wife are guests at the Bankers' Club. Kuhl is interested in one of the distilleries of Peoria, Ill., and is here to pass the remainder of the winter. A. C. Wilkins and wife are guests at the same hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Claus Spreckels, Jr., the wife of the son of the late Mr. Spreckels, are here for a few days while the friends.

George Beck, general agent of the Fidelity and Casualty Company of Denver, who was formerly in the insurance business in this city, arrived here yesterday and will remain several days while prospecting local agencies of the company he is now connected with.

John M. Jordan is registered at the Alexandria with his family. He came here from Chicago for the winter months and has been staying at Coronado. Other guests here are Mr. and Mrs. Claus Spreckels, Jr., the wife of the son of the late Mr. Spreckels, are here for a few days while the friends.

Fashion's Photography.

Linen and velvet is one of the new combinations we shall see much of.

French and German Valenciennes are being used for summer lingerie.

It is not unusual to see the outlines of the pate. Look yourself over critically and decide this matter without prejudice, for there is no concealment under cover of the closely-confined ripples or coils which are not the natural locks. While much less hair is worn, under circumstances than has recently been customary, it is always possible to modify modes to suit one's personality.

Enchanting little chemisettes and undersleeves of net have returned—a reminiscence of the second empire fashions.

A great deal of fancy ostrich is seen on the new small hats, usually standing upright or set at some anon the position back and a front end-

THE REAL STUFF.

Mexico has at last begun to produce soldiers who are willing to die for their cause, whether they know why they are fighting or not. Two rebel officers at Naco preferred execution to conscription. They will go down in history as real heroes of this profitless campaign.

THE SUNDAY CROWDS.

It is estimated that already 70,000 persons in Los Angeles are spending their Sundays at the beaches. To this number must be added more than 100,000 persons who regularly make their Sunday outings in automobiles. This is a wonderful city for a day off.

AN IMPROVEMENT.

The suffragettes of England have organized a spiritual militancy league for the conversion of ministers of the gospel to their cause. The politicians of Great Britain will not only be glad to have the clergy converted, but it will be a great relief to them to have militant suffragettes spiritualized.

THE STANDING ARMY.

At last the question of why an army has found a plausible answer. When the troops left Ft. Sheridan for the Mexican border last week North Shore residents immediately experienced a servant-girl famine. Every city should be provided with a large number of troops as this will make it possible for the women of those cities to retain their cooks and maids.

BURN THEM.

Congress has a "Joint Select Committee on the Disposition of Useless Papers in Executive Departments" to which is referred all papers not needed in the transaction of public business and of no historical or permanent value. Cremation is the doom of all such. If a similar committee were in existence here, what a bonfire there would be every morning in the street in front of the establishment of our steamed Progressive contemporaries.

CORRECT.

Col. Roosevelt, in eulogizing the defunct Bull Moose party to a Philadelphia audience made the remarkably veracious statement: "Our party is not now in power." Surely he underestimated the intelligence of the good people of the Quaker City or overestimated their reputation for tardiness. He must put the average Philadelphian on a par with the Arkansas farmer who during the second administration of Grant was heard to exclaim: "Well, well! so old Abe Lincoln's dead; and no one ever told me he'd been sick."

HOT POTATOES.

A New York suffragette has made her militant London sisters assume the semblance of 30 cents. She disdains to pour citric acid into letter boxes, or dynamite the country homes of opponents, or throw hot grease into government offices, or tear the breaches from the legs of recalcitrant members of Parliament. Her weapons are home weapons within the reach of every industrious housewife.

She is the lessee of rooms in a tenement house owned by David Zabinsky, is Mrs. Sarah Shotzky. When the landlord called her to inquire why she had shut off the water supply of the other tenants she failed to make a satisfactory explanation. Thereupon he lost his temper. He intimated that occasion and opportunity offered she was in the habit of imitating the example of Messalina in dealing with their feet from the independent to work on their own deaths." In 1904 Alton G. Parker was defeated on a platform which read:

"We favor an immediate declaration of the nation's purpose to give the Filipinos first, a stable form of government; second, independence; and third, protection from outside interference such as has been given for nearly a century to the republics of Central and South America."

In 1905 William J. Bryan was defeated on a platform which read:

"We favor an immediate declaration of the nation's purpose to recognize the independence of the Philippine Islands as soon as a stable government can be established, such independence to be guaranteed by us as we guarantee the independence of Cuba, until the neutralization of the islands can be secured by treaty with other powers."

In 1911 Woodrow Wilson and a majority of both houses of Congress were elected on a platform which read:

"We favor an immediate declaration of the nation's purpose to recognize the independence of the Philippine Islands as soon as a stable government can be established, such independence to be guaranteed by us as we guarantee the independence of Cuba, until the neutralization of the islands can be secured by treaty with other powers."

In yesterday's Tribune the old rethor says that his "conviction of the merit of proportional representation is not yet so definitely established as to warrant assumption of the responsibility of urging its adoption. Toopious has found out that the rank and file of Progressives, who are such from principle and not merely to obtain office, will not march under the red flag of socialism. Toopious has found out that by "giving himself airs of importance he but exhibits the credentials of importance." His "desire of appearing clever has prevented his becoming so." He pretends to do what he cannot do. Intelligent Progressives will not "as tenderly be led by the nose as asses are." They will not be led by Toopious into the trap set for them. The bulk of them will vote with Republicans and Democrats and Prohibitionists against the Earl-Darrow combination."

WELCOMING.

The agreement between the Socialist leaders and the Progressive leaders, by which the latter contract to deliver the Progressive vote for proportional representation and the former agree to deliver the Socialist vote against district representation, and in favor of continuing in power the policy of harbor improvement suppression—hangs fire a little. Toopious finds that the public will not stand for the scheme. He cannot control even his immediate followers and he is retching.

In yesterday's Tribune the old rethor says that his "conviction of the merit of proportional representation is not yet so definitely established as to warrant assumption of the responsibility of urging its adoption. THE SOCIAL EVIL.
The world will always have use for such fearless and fair reformers as Miss Virginia Brooks. Unfortunately, too, the world still needs reforming in many of its social and spiritual aspects. Miss Brooks has taken hold of one of the most pressing of these needs and is treating it in a practical way. Immorality, a disregard for the marriage laws, social impurity have been the chief cause in the decline of all the nations of antiquity.

Man, strong physically and weak spiritually, inevitably adopts the moral standard set by the finer and more sensitive sex. The fall from grace, as pictured in the scriptural Garden of Eden, may be an allegory, but it is the truest story ever written and has been exemplified in each successive age of the world's history.

As to the inevitable result of illicit pleasures we have been exhorted and warned—we have no longer any excuse for ignorance. Disease and decay follow the breaking of natural or divine laws. Yet the statistics from any of our great cities, carefully compiled, prove that there has been so far very little abatement of the social evil. The amount of money spent every year in Chicago for immoral purposes would be incredible, were not the sources of information unfortunately only too well authenticated. Even in Scotland, the land of the unco guid, the birth rate of illegitimate reaches 28 per cent.

To witness the result, then, is not a sufficiently strong incentive for avoiding the evil. Advertising the salacious details only seems to produce a morbid curiosity. The picture doesn't need coloring in yellow and scarlet. Miss Brooks has been investigating the causes that lead up to such melancholy results. The cause must be discovered before the remedy can be applied. Where most legislation fails is in devising the remedy without first seeking the cause. The mass of attempted legislation before the present solons in Sacramento reminds one of doctors treating cases that they have never taken the trouble to diagnose. This is not Miss Brooks' system.

After careful investigation she has discovered one of the chief lapses from the straight moral path to be caused by "the loneliness of small-town girls in great cities." This loneliness, she avers, leaves them open to the clever and apparently friendly advances of designing men. We know that the upright men and women are in a large majority—they probably were even in Babylon—but the evil minority is good for man to be alone; it is worse for women. The solitude among crowds in a big city turns the desolation of the desert into a paradise. Yet how to look after all uncredited strangers in any city of a million or more people is the problem of the ages.

In Los Angeles, at any rate, we have already plenty of good women and many organizations whose mission is to brighten the lives of friendless girls. Almost all our leading emporiums and business houses, where any considerable female help is necessary, make provision for the social welfare of their employees. If every city in the world provided the "lonely small-town girl" with as many chances for healthy recreation as does the metropolis of Southern California, one of the chief contributing causes to the social evil—according to Virginia Brooks—would have already been removed.

CONCERNING THE PHILIPPINES.

If there is any one policy or principle to which the Democratic party is more thoroughly committed than another it is that of relinquishing the Philippines. In framing a tariff for revenue only there is a wide divergence among Democrats with respect to the details of legislation which will almost inevitably result in protection being accorded to some articles and denied to others. But the character of legislation concerning the Philippines to which Democratic stands pledged by four successive national platforms is specific and certain, and leaves no loophole for misunderstanding or evasion.

In 1900 William J. Bryan was defeated on a platform which read:

"We insist that we ought to do for the Filipinos what we have done already for the Cubans, and it is our duty to make the promise now and upon suitable guarantees of protection to citizens of our own and other countries residing there at the time of our withdrawal, set the Filipino people on their feet from the independent to work on their own destiny."

In 1904 Alton G. Parker was defeated on a platform which read:

"We favor an immediate declaration of the nation's purpose to give the Filipinos first, a stable form of government; second, independence; and third, protection from outside interference such as has been given for nearly a century to the republics of Central and South America."

In 1905 William J. Bryan was defeated on a platform which read:

"We favor an immediate declaration of the nation's purpose to recognize the independence of the Philippine Islands as soon as a stable government can be established, such independence to be guaranteed by us as we guarantee the independence of Cuba, until the neutralization of the islands can be secured by treaty with other powers."

Toopious has found out that the public will not stand for the scheme. He cannot control even his immediate followers and he is retching.

In yesterday's Tribune the old rethor says that his "conviction of the merit of proportional representation is not yet so definitely established as to warrant assumption of the responsibility of urging its adoption. Toopious has found out that by "giving himself airs of importance he but exhibits the credentials of importance." His "desire of appearing clever has prevented his becoming so." He pretends to do what he cannot do. Intelligent Progressives will not "as tenderly be led by the nose as asses are." They will not be led by Toopious into the trap set for them. The bulk of them will vote with Republicans and Democrats and Prohibitionists against the Earl-Darrow combination."

The help of the churches was a contributing factor in winning the vote for the women of California. Let the new body of British spiritual militants become sufficiently strong, and let them bring the right influence to bear, and the men of Great Britain, unless the spirit of gallantry is impossible.

Things Reversed.

WHO CARES, ANYWAY?

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

Of course, reverence is going out. It hasn't been really smart for years. Enthusiasm and appreciation are very bad form. The fashionable attitude in cultured circles is one of critical scorn, flippant boredom as regards the realities and patronizing interest as regards the spiritual and unknown.

There may be strictly dans le mouvement now, may wax quite vivacious against Henri Bergson on the one hand and your Views on theoretical eugenics or New Thought should be kept up to date. A strict membership in a psychical research society and a polite patronage of the Futurists will at once stamp you as the essence of modernity.

For which reason one Richard Barry, described as an expatriated Angelino, has just made a speech in New York with belittling Capt. Scott and his party in particular and such-like inefficient fools in general, has received respectful attention. Thank heaven we have our Barrys. But for him we have certainly have committed the absurd gesture of thinking Capt. Scott, Capt. Oates, Capt. Evans, Dr. Wilson and Lieut. Bowers great and brave men worthy of our reverence. Odd how we cling to our old-fashioned ideas. Somehow it seemed to us rather a fine thing for these men to set forth on a long and perilous journey, deliberately courting the severest tests of human endurance, for the purpose of adding to the world's knowledge. And to have died as they did, uncompaining, splendidly heroic, loyal, brave, enduring to the last, having fully accomplished all that they set out to do—well, it did rather stir our patriotic little souls and shake up our snug mean little consciences.

All is a mistake. Barry has put us right. Bless you, Scott and his men were, after all, but a bunch of failures!

Do you know why Scott's party died? Barry has assured us it was pure inefficiency. The silly asses failed to estimate sufficient stores and supply stations. That's all. Wherefore, the world, instead of getting mauldin over their demise and erecting monuments to them, should proceed to pass a resolution of condemnation so that the next exploration idiots won't have to do the same.

Clever little Barry!

But the favorite form of criticism offered by the bright, big, little critics is "Well, who cares for the South Pole?" Who, indeed? Who, indeed? The Amundsons and Pearys of today, the Shackletons and Scotts must be prepared to meet this amusing facetious question at every turn.

When a man succeeds in swimming the English Channel—thirty-three hours in the water and game to the last—the witty magazine writers ask: "Well, who cares anyway?"

When a man tests a new aeroplane, demonstrates wonderful possibilities, but ends by breaking his neck over one important piece of machinery, the big little critics hasten to ask: "Well, who cares about flying that far, anyway?"

Safety and comfort are obviously so much better than hardship and danger; too much food is so very much more desirable than little, though not necessarily unpleasant than the cold; relaxation and rest are so much more comfortable than fatigue and endurance that we naturally regard any man as a fool who voluntarily foregoes these "necessities of modern civilization."

And there is plenty of room in the world already—who wants more? Doubtless there were plenty of big little critics in Lisbon long ago, when dear silly old Christopher Columbus set forth on his funny voyage, to ask, "Well, who cares about America, anyway?"

About ninety million of us care today, but Christopher could not know that, and he was a fool to take the risks.

McClure's discovery of the Northwest Passage is still a joke because no line of steamers plies that way at yet—who cares about the Northwest Passage, anyway?"

You are not going to tell little old Siberians, some future Greenlanders will be erecting belated monuments to McClure and doing a thriving trade via the Northwest Passage some day.

When Livingstone penetrated Darkest Africa—who cared? Made good reading for the story books, of course, but Mungausen's method was simpler and less exciting.

As likely as not Normandy had her big little critics and the Richard Barrys of yesterday inquired of William the Conqueror when he sailed for the little Island of Albion, "Well, who cares for a little old island, anyway?" One-fifth of the world falls under her sway, but we can't pretend William foresaw that.

So these men must all be relegated amongst the fools. No sane man would take big risks, endure brutal hardships, voluntarily land himself into incredible difficulties, wantonly risk going short of meals and sleeping goodness knows where just for some vague hazy possibly barely probable value.

Why should he? Who cares, anyway?

NAPOLEON RELIC.

An extremely interesting relic has been sold by Messrs. Brentano's to a New York lady. The relic is no less than the very table on which Napoleon signed his abdication and gave up the throne of France. It will be remembered that the allies of Europe in 1814 pressed Napoleon to a position from which he could not retreat. Napoleon decided to submit to the decision of the Senate and when Marshal Lefebvre informed him that the Senate had decided that he had forfeited his throne and he retired to Fontainebleau, the second room beyond the bedroom in the royal study where this table stood and on it wrote the following form:

"Done at the Palace of Fontainebleau, April 11, 1814."

The table is a circular topped table on a pillar with carved base and standing a trifle over three feet high. Beneath the top is an oval brass plate on which is engraved the following:

"Le 11 d'Avril, 1814 huit huit heures, Napoléon Bonaparte signe son abdication sur cette table dans le Cabinet de travail du Roi de Bavière—après la chambre à coucher à Fontainebleau."

THE BRIGHTER DAY.

Yesterday the joys of life were ours. Thought was taken of seeing beauty, crumpled health in pulse or gout; carefree hearts knew naught of strife; the world was ours, and buoyant life.

Today the heart may be oppressed; yearning soul may seek rest; limbs sore may bend around; tension crushed, as yet uncrowned; doubt and pain, and body's thrall; a joy to ashes; laughter, gall.

Tomorrow, with its smiling face, hope to beckon in the race; health and joy ride on its crest; vanish fear within the heart; birds and flowers shall skirt the lead unto that brighter day.

"White Slave" Nonsense.

PARADENA, March 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] There is a "white slavery" for sheep, piffing, maudlin hysteria is worse than anything since the burning of the Books at Geneva. The only is the investigation being conducted in a childish manner, but the gentlemen at its head are proceeding on a set and preconceived theory that makes the bringing of any facts to light an exception rather than the rule.

When the Chief Performer, who appears to expect to be elected to something later on, receives an answer from his witnesses which does not accredit entirely with his own preconceived theory, he gets a "thank you!" This sounds like exaggeration, but is what reports show. In any ordinary case a judge who conducted the trial would be bound to accept the position, but in a case as appealing as this, he may be sure of gaining the applause of the half-baked and the ill-developed mentality.

This defendant's theory is that prostitution is a profession which has existed in all ages and in all places, is the result of a horrible urge which has been named the Modern Industrial System. Yesterday at The Times School of Domestic Science

Conducted by
Mrs. Bertha Haffner-Ginger

Cooking as a Fine Art.
FOR WOMEN HOMEKEEPERS.

FASCINATING TALK ON A FASCINATING ART.

Open House and Free Lessons
Three Days in the Week, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, in Afternoon, Second Floor, New "Times" Building.

There surely will be "things doing" at The Times School of Domestic Science this afternoon. On the platform will be one of the most complete displays of different cuts of meat ever put on exhibition. Housewives who attended Mrs. Haffner's lectures at Barker's a year and a half ago "have not yet stopped talking about the display put in from Young's market there on a certain "meat day." This afternoon will be "meat day" at The Times school and the same firm will supply the exhibit.

There will be every sort of cut you can imagine—from the cheapest to the choicest, and a butcher will be present to explain all about the cuts and tell you how to select. It will be an object lesson in the selection and quality of meats that no housewife can afford to miss. She will learn how to judge meats and how to select for her household when she goes to market.

As everyone knows, the proper selection of meats is one of the most important points in the daily regime of culinary art. Come this afternoon, ladies, and take a practical lesson in the choosing of meats.

MYSTIC DEATH CYCLE OF THREE COMPLETE.

THE strange and mystic cycle of three completed itself yesterday morning in the third death, under similar circumstances at the Alexandria within as many weeks. Miss Marjorie Sullivan, formerly of Seattle, was found dead in her bed by her mother and Miss Mary Sullivan, her sister, at 5:30 o'clock yesterday morning. Dr. Philip Newmark, who had attended the girl on her arrival about two weeks ago, was called and pronounced death due to heart failure induced by phthisis. The Coroner investigated. The body is at the Bresee mortuary and will be prepared for shipment north.

The other two deaths, which came within two days, were that of Mrs. Mary L. Ladd, eccentric and wealthy club woman of this city, who succumbed to heart failure, and G. W. Clark, vice-president of the Homer Laughlin China Pottery Co. of East Laughlin China Pottery Co. of East Laughlin, China pottery company, died away by a cerebral hemorrhage. In both instances the persons were well advanced in years, but Miss Sullivan was only 21. She had been brought here for the benefit of her health.

Manager Whitmire of the Alexandria, at the time of the first two deaths, called attention to the fact that death in such unusual events in the hotel and during his entire career in the hotel business, have moved in cycles of three. "This is not a superstition, but the course of events has proved it over and over again to be a positive fact," he said yesterday. "When I was notified this morning of the passing away of Miss Sullivan, all of my suspense was at an end. I was able to relax and stop wondering who would be the third. In my estimation, of this sort, when there are more than a thousand persons a day making their home, to say nothing of the hundreds of employees, there is always a certainty of the appearance of death and I have gotten entirely over the dread that hotel men in the past have shown when anything of this sort comes up. It is statistically impossible for a hotel to have such things as the traveling public no longer thinks of death, ghosts and other phenomena of this character in a superstitious light."

Redondo Beach Fisherman Says He Gave Money for Cottage Which Was Not Trade?

A curious complication in which a beach cottage owned by Mrs. "Bob" Montgomery, now traveling in the Orient, is supposedly traded for a pair of mules and harness owned by James W. Johnson, a wealthy follower of Bahai. There are about sixty of the faithful here now, but the countess sadly admits that they are not working very hard at it. She looks for an awakening as soon as the 1917 hush soaks in.

She slipped it to a bunch of bathers reported in Judge Wilbur's courtroom yesterday afternoon. What is it? Oh, nothing much except the fulfillment of all the revelations of the Scriptures and the entering upon a new dispensation of existence. A blind reporter in his past life before him just as though he were drowning and he tremblingly asked if the world was coming to an end and if everybody would be pushed off the platform. Four years is none too long a time to get ready for anything like that.

The countess was reassuring, and it appears that we are already upon the transitory stage. It's just the fulfillment of perfection that little old 1917 has led in because it has a numerical association with eternity.

If complaint is filed it will be returnable in a Redondo justice court.

Five thousand dollars did not tempt R. E. Reid to sell his present crop of Valencia—twenty acres of 5-year-olds.—[Advertisement.]

more healthful it is." Then the talk drifted to those cute little bread boats that Mrs. Haffner-Ginger makes to hold creamed chicken, creamed corn, or anything else you want to put in them.

"The other night," she said, "when I had those sixty-five men to provide for, I served individual bread boats filled with creamed chicken. Did they like it? Well, I wish you could have seen that fleet of boats disappear down the throats of those hungry men. Now, I want to tell you how I utilized the bread boats that I scooped out from the inside of those boats. I just pressed each one into shape, sprinkled grated cheese over the top, browned them in the oven till the cheese melted, and served them with the salad."

"Well, wasn't that a scheme?" commented the economical gray-haired woman in the middle row. "I'd been wondering what became of all that bread that was scooped out from the inside of those boats."

NO PLACE FOR IT.

Los Angeles Not Right Spot for Lonesome Club and New Organization Dissolves.

Verily, Los Angeles is no place for a Lonesome Club.

At the third meeting of that new—or, rather, no more—organization at No. 817 South Broadway last night the club, to quote one of the members, "which went ker-plunk, dissolved, evaporated, disappeared."

The reason?

No one knows precisely; but a peep at the treasurer's books may reveal the why, for only $7.50 the treasury contains.

When the ninety members got the peep they also got dizzy. Some got speculative and took the stump. Chased, sniped. Verbal bombs and adjectives—shrapnel—came out.

As the citadel was about to fall some bright orator's voice was heard above the roar:

"We'll see the day. The Lonesome Club is more. But on the shabby financial foundation is built a new and greater and more moneyed organization for the promotion of social life and the gladness of Let's meet again in Mammoth Hall Tuesday next and found the Strangers' Club."

And so it was decided by those who were willing to fare forth again on the seas of social organization.

And the treasury balance stands $7.50.

The Lonesome Club, born of the dust, has returned to the dust.

ECZEMA BROKE OUT IN PIMPLES

On Face, Arms and Parts of Body, Itching and Burning Intense, Scratching Disfigured Face, Ointment Soap and Ointment Cured.

200 20th Ave., Milwaukee, Wis.—"I was cured of eczema by Cutisene Soap and Ointment. My face and arms were covered with pimplies, then it became a rash. The Itching and burning were so intense that they made me sleepless and disturbed my health. My doctor said that what was wrong with my body was very infectious. It kept me from getting my sleep. I used several remedies which were of no use. I suffered a year or more with eczema, then I began to use Cutisene Soap and Ointment, and then they relieved me. I continue to use Cutisene Soap and Ointment now and never have any trouble whatever. Cutisene Soap and Ointment cured me completely." (Signed) John Allen Martinez, Aug. 8, 1912.

For pimples and blackheads the following is a most effective and economical treatment: Gently rub a small piece of Cutisene Soap on the end of the finger, but do not rub. Wash off the Cutisene Ointment five minutes with Cutisene Soap and hot water and continue bathing for some minutes. This treatment is best on nights and resting. At other times use Cutisene Soap for the toilet and bath, to assist in preventing infections, irritation and clearing of the skin. Sold everywhere. Large boxes of each sealed from with 22-p. Side Boxes. Address post-card "Cutisene, Dept. T, Boston." $4—Tender-faced man should use Cutisene Soap Shaving Stick, 25c. Sample free.

Deep-Seated Cough Cured In 5 Hours

New Home-Made Syrup. (Cut this out.) Progress in medical compounds never ceases, and now it is stated by a prominent physician that a deep-seated cough or cold on the lungs can be actually cured in five hours by the clock. Opium and morphine have been used in the past as relief measures. But now it is learned that the systems must be treated to rid it of inflammation and congestion. A tonic and compound syrup does the work quickly and thoroughly as to be almost magical. What heretofore has been a long and cumbersome process is now completed in hours. Get this form filled or mix it at home, and always keep it on hand. One bottle of this compound syrup—two ounces compound essence cardiot and three ounces syrup white pine compound. Shake the bottle, and take twice a dropper every half hour for four hours. Then take one-half to one teaspoonful three or four times a day until the system is purified and tones are given to the body according to age. One filling will usually cure a whole family, as the dose is small. [Advertisement.]

Straight home-building is a sound, solid, highly profitable business. We believe in it—we're building 5 handsome bungalows right now on our 88th St. Tract. And we buy our lumber and building materials direct—cut out the middleman's profit. Mr. C. B. Cunningham of our directorate is one of the best known residential builders in the Southwest. He's the man who put Tropicana and Glendale on the map.

But there's big money in other local reality lines—dealing in down-town leases for instance. We shall operate heavily in the latter field. Join us now at 50c per share—exactly the same price paid by the original organizers. Price soon to advance. Not a dollar of promotion stock has been issued—not a cent of commissions has been paid for the sale of stock. And we've over $60,000 worth subscribed to date. Write for our handsome booklet—it's free—tells the whole story.

Lankershim-Van Nuys Lands—Suburban Homes Company, Owners, Controllers and Developers.

The First California Gold Came from the San Fernando Valley in the Year 1841

"Eight years before the great days of '49, Francisco Lopez, the mayordomo of the Mission, was in the canyon of San Fernando, which is about eight miles from the present town of Newhall, and according to Don Abel Stevens with a companion while in search of some stray horses, about midday, stopped under a large tree to rest and to feed. While resting in the shade Lopez and his companion dug up some small pieces of dirt which were full of gold. Searching further he found more. Then the rush began. The first California gold ever coined in the government mint at Philadelphia came from these mines."

The finding of gold in the hills north of the San Fernando Valley is now history.

The days of Lopez and his companion have passed away. Likewise, the gold.

From out the silt, washed down from these gold bearing hills, a vastly different character of treasure is emerging.

The golden wealth of fruit and grain, health and happiness, profit and riches.

For, the VAN NUYS - LANKERSHIM LANDS possess more real value, enduring value, to the agriculturist, the horticulturist, the gardener, the dairyman, the investor, than the hills to the north ever did to the miner.

Select a tract for yourself—any size you like. Establish yourself in a fine suburban home; on a piece large enough to cultivate for profit; or invest for subdivision later. No property in Southern California will feel the stimulus of great things more quickly than this.

See me as soon as you can. Delay will gain you nothing.

Invest in Real Harbor Property

The school teachers of Los Angeles have been invited to attend Thursday's excursion.

At Los Angeles Harbor today through the opening of the Panama Canal and the hundred and one development projects now under way throughout Southern California a great commercial port is absolutely assured.

The future CENTER of intense harbor activity is established NOW. This center is WHERE THE BIG SHIPS DOCK and in the immediate vicinity—NOT a mile or two away from deep water.

---go to the harbor Thursday at 10 A. M.

20-MILE BOAT RIDE, ROUND TRIP ON P. E. CARS. Lecture on Panama Canal, and luncheon—all for 50 cents.

See the harbor with your own eyes and study out the situation for yourself. Over 10,000 people have taken the trip. Experts will explain all features and points of interest in the Inner and Outer Harbor.

You will see that Dominguez Harbor Tract is the only close-to-deep-water property available of low prices. Practically all other harbor property is owned by the city of Los Angeles and by various corporations.

That why Dominguez Harbor Tract sales have run close to $300,000.00 in less than three months.

Call at our office for tickets. Come at once—accommodations limited.

ORGANIZATION OF CLASS D LEAGUE IS COMPLETED.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—Organization of the California class D Baseball League, begun several weeks ago, was completed here today. The league will be a "farm" for the Pacific Coast League and the circuit will include San Jose, Fresno, Stockton and probably Vallejo.

Allan T. Baum, president of the Coast League, was elected temporary president and secretary. Permanent officials will be chosen before the opening of the playing season, April 15.

Vallejo's joining the league depends upon the settlement of a difficulty regarding the leasing of grounds. Cal Ewing of the San Francisco Coast League team will not finance the San Jose team, which he recently announced he would do.

The San Jose franchise will go to Tom Stephens of Los Angeles, and Ewing will be the manager. The team, if it comes into the league, Henry Berry of Los Angeles will finance the Fresno club, and Ed Maier, the Stockton club.

Ewing said at today's meeting there are four or five candidates for the San Francisco team at Boyce Springs who will be available for the new league.

EASY FOR THEM.

Some of the best scenarios received by the new players' companies operating in and around Los Angeles are sent in by elevator boys, bell boys and street car conductors, while the efforts of experienced and trained writers are returned.

Will be available for the new league.

DICK KINSELLA IS FATHER OF GIANTS.

Dick Kinsella is likely to go down in history as the "father of the New York Giants."

Kinsella, who is a scout for the Giants, and who is in Los Angeles, furnished McGraw with no less than six of his present players.

While manager of the Springfield club, Kinsella sent Doyle, Wilson, Hartley, Groh and Crandall to New York, and acted as McGraw's agent in the purchase of "Chief" Meyers from St. Paul.

Kinsella, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. "Rube" Marquard, will leave today for Houston, Tex., where they will join the Giants.

BANKERS SIGN BOXING STARS.

LOCAL PROMOTER TO APPEAR IN PRIVATE SHOW.

Financier's Clubhouse to Have Ring and Champion Bag Puncher Is to Appear in Clever Act for Bank Men. Followed by Pianos of Mitt Numbers.

BY AL G. WADDELL.

Announcement was made yesterday of a private boxing show to be staged at the Los Angeles Bankers' Club Saturday evening, March 29.

A committee was appointed to arrange a feature programme and the popularity of the boxing led to the decision to put on an exclusive athletic card in which four bouts would be the main attraction.

The committee solicited the assistance of "Uncle" Tom McCahey and his general manager, Harry Burns, and a promise of a clay exhibition of boxes was the result.

The local promoter is to referee the bouts. He is also slated for a talk on the boxing game, which should be of great interest to the followers of the sport among the bankers of this section.

Harry Burns has consented to give an exhibition of bag punching and act as official announcer during the entertainment. Burns has had a professional championship as a professional bag puncher and the club members are promised a clever exhibition of "inflated sphere manipulations."

Young Ajax, the wrestler, is also on.

A Japanese fencing bout and a Jigjiu number are included in the list of attractions.

As the Bankers' Club is an exclusive social organization with a membership which includes some of the most prominent men in Los Angeles banking circles, the announcement of this boxing programme is of more than passing interest to the bankers for the glove game is one with the popularity of the sport as with the masses.

The third monthly match of the Pacific Coast Boston Terrier Club was held last night at Caldonia Hall before about 200 members and fanciers.

There were 100 dogs entered in the various classes.

CAR WINDOW HURTS WOLGAST.

"Ad" Has End of His Finger Mashed Off.

Murphy Fight May Be Held One Week Later.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—If Ad Wolgast, former lightweight champion, loses his fight with Tommy Murphy next month, he will quit the ring for good. Tom Jones, Wolgast's manager, made this assertion in jail over the plans for the fight prior to Wolgast's departure today for his training camp at Harbin Springs.

Jones thought the date of the fight would have to be April 19 instead of a week earlier, as the promoter had hoped.

He said Wolgast had injured his little finger last Saturday in a struggle with a car window while returning from Medford, Or. The window smashed down unexpectedly, crushing the tip of the fighter's finger so that most of the nail was torn away.

A surgeon advised the former champion not to hasten his training and Jones held out for the later fighting date on that account.

Wolgast, however, had injured his heart, Mrs. Elmore, owner.

BERKELEY, March 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch] Twenty-two strong, athletic, well-bred young men from the University of California will leave New York for San Francisco Saturday to compete in the national track and field sports to be held here in 1915.

The exposition is expected to attract the foremost of amateur athletes and is of vital importance to the Olympic meets.

The A.A.U. voted recently to award the national track and field championships to San Francisco for 1915, and the International Olympic Committee has offered a gold medal to be competed for in a modern pentathlon.

Sullivan is planning early completion of the list of events to give foreign athletes sufficient time for training.

GREAT TRACK MEET IS PROMISED FOR SATURDAY.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

If the University of California track and field team runs true to form in the meet with the Trojans on Bovard Field next Saturday afternoon, the score should be about 64 to 54 in favor of the southern men, unless Vail is put out of the running by the A.A.U. on a professional basis.

If the local sprinting corps comes into its own, the tide of battle may turn in favor of the South, but by a very small margin. Bill Carrigan and Waldo Throop are "right" this week and should one of them win, the other will more than likely take second. Carrigan ran a great race last Saturday, when he was in no condition, while Throop was not on edge at all. Ira Courtney is an uncertain quantity now, as his bad leg is far from right, but he may be in shape for Saturday.

POUR FORTY IMPORTANT.

The 446 is another race where the meet may turn in favor of the Trojans. Here Jackson and Hodge should place one, two. Todd of California is a hard man to beat, but if either Hodge or Jackson can turn the trick, both should be able to do it.

In the shot put, Jackson and Leo Livermore have a chance. Kelly will probably win the first place, but Clement and Leo should place second and third. Clement has beaten forty-two feet, while Livermore has been over the forty-one foot mark.

Clément has beaten against the class of the meet in the hammer throw. Shattuck of California is probably the greatest college hammer thrower in the country today.

Both the high-jump and the broad jump appear to belong to California, white Watkins and Borgstrom will form the team to run the balance toward U.S.C. in the pole vault. The California vaulters are about on a par with the southern men, unless Vail is put out of the running by the A.A.U. on a professional basis.

Surprise Possible.

OSCAR JONES MAY RETURN AS COAST LEAGUE HEAVER.

Roy Brashear Thinks Former Flinger of Angel Team Is All Right—Bush Reuther May Prove to Be a Live One—Brooks Promises to Be Good Batsman the Coming Season.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

WOULD it not jar your ideas of baseball longevity should Oscar Jones "come back" and prove his right to a meal ticket in the Coast League? Roy Brashear says that Jones may do that very thing, and Roy, you know, is a conservative man.

Many of you remember Oscar. He pitched the first game for the Los Angeles club in the Coast League. That was in 1902. He held Oakland to one run, but that was enough to beat the Angels, with "Doc" Moskiman on the ground for the Oaks.

Jones was the Angels' one best wagger that season. Soon after he graduated into faster company, going to Brooklyn. Later he returned to the Coast League, and finally his name dropped out of the box scores.

He had come to be only a memory, when suddenly he emerged from nowhere in particular, and came back to the place of beginning. He asked Hogan for tryout, and that is what he is getting day by day.

Twelve years ago Jones was one of the best pitchers ever seen in the Coast League. Twelve years is a long span in any pitcher's life, but Oscar is a sort of "iron man," and he believes that he is as good as new.

"Can he 'come back'?" ejaculated Brashear, repeating the question by way of emphasis. "Why, he has already done that. You ought to see the stuff that he has on that ball. I don't know how good Jones used to be, but I don't think that he could have been much better than he is today. It would make old 'Doc' Oster sick to see this boy wing them over."

Here's hoping, to say the least.

Walter Ruether, rah-rah boy, yesterday donned the gay colors of the Angels. Walter is here fresh from St. Ignatius College with a volume of Cleric in his coat pocket and several geometrical problems in his good left arm. The Latin text-book is for his own edification, while it will be up to opposing Coast League batsmen to solve the geometrical riddles.

Ruether, as may have been suspected, is a southpaw. Recently he stepped into sudden fame by holding the White Sox regulars to three hits. The Sox beat him, 4 to 2, but were scared out of a year's growth before they succeeded in bunching a couple of hits on him in the ninth inning for the winning tally.

It was this that caused Berry and Dillon to sit up and take notice. They figured that any youngster who could do anything like that, when backed by a mere college team ought to win a big batch of games in the Coast League.

Negotiations were at once opened through Hughey Smith, who is in San Francisco, and Hughey hot no time in collaring Ruether with a contract.

"Spider" Baum did light work at Venice yesterday for the first time since silcing open an artery with a pane of glass in the clubhouse at Washington Park last week.

The Tiger regulars and Yannigans again engaged in mortal combat, the regulars winning 4 to 0, under the leadership of Roy Brashear. The magnetic "Speed" McDonnell piloted the Yannigans.

Hogan will send his men against the Occidental team in a return game at Venice this afternoon. The battle will start at 2 o'clock, and there will be no tax at the gate. Saturday afternoon the Tigers will meet the Tufts-Lyons and Sunday will endeavor to wipe up the Harris & Franks.

"Faithful Reader" sends in a frenzied inquiry: He or she, whichever it may be, demands to know why Jim Scott of the White Sox is labeled the "Imperial Valley Mystery."

That label reaches back a number of years, and is based on an incident in the Cantaloupe League, which then flourished in Imperial Valley.

Scott came west to grow up with the country and try his hand at winter ball in 1908. He was fresh from the great city of Wichita in the Western League, and was scheduled to make his big league debut with the White Sox the following spring.

Scott's ticket took him to Imperial. He was informed by Tom Dawson, secretary of the Imperial club, that the team was playing in El Centro. Scott was hungry for employment and he struck out for El Centro via the tie route. It was quite a hike, and Jim didn't look like a budding major league when he reached his destination. He applied to Johnny Whitman, manager of the Imperial team, for a job.

Whitman looked him over suspiciously, and then he decided that it wouldn't do any harm to give him a trial. He reflected that Mike Donlin once arrived in Southern California on a brakebeam.

Scott fanned twenty-one men in the first game that he pitched, and showed so much smoke that Ted Easterly, who caught him, slipped a beefsteak into his glove the next time he went behind the bat.

Scott looked like the "find" of the year. Easterly raved over him. Then it leaked out that Scott belonged to the White Sox and he ceased to be a mystery.

At the close of the winter schedule Easterly and Scott separated, the former going to Cleveland and the latter joining the White Sox.

Now the old Imperial battery has been resited under the colors of Comiskey.

Clarence Brooks of the Angels may not finish the season with the fattest batting average in the league, but it is the one best bat in the world that he strikes out fewer times than any other player.

At least, Dillon is willing to bet a new hat to that effect.

Brooks is credited with having fanned but once in a pinch last season. While the data to prove this is not available, it is not likely that any one will dispute the assertion.

Brooks is the most discriminating of sticksmiths. He positively refuses to offer at bad balls. Not in recent years has he been known to "chase one to the water bucket." Brooks either meets the ball or walks. Not all of his drives go for base hits, but that is because the opposing fielders are drawing pay for doing their duty.

BALL MAGNATES PULLED FROM SAND BY WRECKERS.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It required the wrecking crew of the United Railroads early this morning to keep several Pacific Coast Baseball League magnates from spending the balance of the night in the rain in the sand dunes north of the park. And the relief came only after an unsuccessful attempt had been made to arouse the fire department to the rescue.

Hon. Berry, president of the Los Angeles Club; Ed Maier of the Venice club and Tom Stephens of the Los Angeles Club were here to attend the class D league meeting this afternoon. The southerners were the guests of President Baum at a dinner and it was then suggested that they hire an automobile and let Ed Maier do the driving, with Baum acting as pilot.

A drive out to the beach was in order and Baum thought to take a short cut, so he told Maier to go straight out Geary street. All went well until they were a half mile or so from the beach, when the car came to a sudden stop with sand up to the hubs of the rear wheels.

After looking over the situation Berry suggested that they could dig

INGRAM WINS AT ENGLISH BILLIARDS.

In the best game of English billiards ever contested in this city Jack Ingram won from G. H. Hughes the first game of the tournament for the championship medal, which started last night at the Majestic Academy.

The score stood 500 to 494, the high break of 32 being by Hughes, while 28 was the high break for Ingram. Averages of 4.4 were made on 113 innings.

SEALS TRYING TO GET NEW CATCHER.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES. SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.—Advices from the training camp of the San Francisco Coast League team tell of the addition of a big league catcher to the squad within a week, but no hint as to his name or baseball history has been given out. Only Manager Hogan and the club owners are in the secret.

It was reported yesterday at the camp, however, that the new man formerly worked in the Western League and was considered fast enough for any company.

There are two weeks of hard work here yet before the team takes the back track and Chance believes that the time is sufficient in which to bring him an infield that will come up to expectations. If he fails it will not be because he didn't try.

But to date everything is fine, even the weather. It is so fine that the pitchers are uncovering everything they have and those that haven't anything now will never have and are doomed to a trip-back to the bush.

In the big harvest of drives for extra bases this spring, the long distance wallopers by the Giants have been apportioned as follows: Home runs—Stock, 4; Thorpe, 4; Cooper, Burns and Gross, 2 each; Merkle, Fletcher, Doyle, Wilson and Meyers, 1 each. Total, 19.

Three base hits—Robertson, 4; Murray, 3; Groh and Wilson, 2 each; Burns, Goulet, Devore, Merkle, Thorne, Herzog, Teasre, Meyers, Staudigl and Doyle, 1 each. Total, 22.

Two base hits—Doyle, 4; Cooper, 4; Burns, 3; Groh, Shafer and Merkle, 2 each; McCormick, Teasre, Thorne, Martin, Herzog, Hertz, 1 each. Total, 22.

Stock who has made four home runs is a little man, but lands on the ball hard. Like Bobby Byrne of the Pirates he hits with a vigor out of proportion to his size. The Indian, Thorpe, who has been hitting harder is surpassed by six or eight players and while he is not at all dependable as a hitter, leads, as the above figures show, in total bases from hits for extra bases. His total of bases from the six long drives to his credit is 21.

While McKechnie and Devlin worked on the different teams against others, the choice could only be speculated but now that the two infielders are in the same camp, the former in mere practice and this with the fact that McKechnie was sent to the outfield to show what he could do there, showed the real trend of the game.

The third base position was much in doubt until Devlin clinched the preference for the position by cutting loose a little more than he has been so far with his throwing arm. As Devlin had been throwing up to today he was not a choice.

Devlin has frankly said that he did not know what his arm was capable of. It felt unusually and unexpectedly good after the limbering up and Arthur cut loose with some line throws.

Critics predict that Larry Cheney will continue to be the Ed Walsh of the Cubs. They opine that he will have to bear the brunt of the slab work for the Cub team in the coming season as he did last year. Larry pitched in thirty-six games last year and won twenty-six and lost ten, running second to Claude Hendrie of Pittsburgh.

Cheney is confident he will make an even better showing this year. He has kept in good condition all winter and is prepared for a strenuous summer's work.

It was impossible for the Cubs to play this afternoon. The rain continued all afternoon and the players packed up and left here for Jacksonville, Fla.

Investigating the chances of various players today, Manager Griffith of the Washington Club intimated in a general way that he expects that he intends to hold on to both of the youngsters from the sunny fields of Cuba.

It is hardly probable that either player will be used much this year. Griffith feels that they both can learn a great deal by sitting on the bench and watching the stars of the game. Of course, they would probably be used occasionally, as they appear to be unusually good stickers.

Over in the nature of hitting, he has had experience and for this reason he will be given first chance, provided one of the regulars fails to deliver at the start.

The Anderson-Brown match is still in the air.

The men have not been rematched, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

Promoter McCahey considers the bout as well as bound, and says that it is merely a question of the managers getting together.

But the last word from Messrs. Morgan and Donald were not getting together with any degree of speed.

A conference had been arranged between them for last night. Donald was to meet the ringmaster to ascertain his desire to play handball at the Los Angeles Athletic Club. He had De Witt Van Court to try and arrange it for him to begin exercising on the courts next week.

Handball was the first diversion to which Jeff turned when he broke his long period of inactivity and began light training for the battle with Eddie Campi on March 29.

Incidentally, Campi might place a decided crimp in his championship designs.
